Gossipy Fashion Letter from Louisville.

To the Editor Interior Journal.
Although quite early in the season the Metropolis is beginning to don her gala dress. The shop windows are gay with the wonderful new greens and blues and grays of every style and texture. The shops themselves resemble huge bee-hives—crowded as they are with feminine creation—pulling, hawking, twisting in their eagerness to see everything new and decide what they like best.

Just one year ago the dreadful cyclone did its awful work; to-day scarcely a trace of the ruin remains. Many of the dilapidated old landmarks have been replaced by handsome new structures which would never have been erected but for the cyclone's work. So there comes good out of the worse evil! Louisville seems at last awaking from her Rip Van Winkle sleep. The new electric cars are a great addition and will soon be put on all lines in the city. The May Musical Festival promises to be a success and lovers of the art all over the State should encourage the work. The new union depot will be open to the public next week. It is an elegant building and shows to good advantage, despite the fact that it sits under a hill. It cannot, however, compare to the one the L. & N. is building at 10th and Broadway, which will soon be ready for occupancy. The people from Stanford and elsewhere will not much longer have a damper thrown on their spirits by alighting at the miserable little shanty at Maple street on coming to the city. For years it has been a disgrace to Louisville, but any city could well be proud of the new one.

Lent is almost at an end and every one, that is every woman and child, are counting the days till Easter. The children, eager for the egg cracking, the women anxious to display their new bonnets and gowns. Never since mother Eave made her dress of the leaves, have her daughters had such opportunities to indulge their tastes, and the girl who cannot look charming this spring had better "give up the ghost." Tighter and tighter grow the dress skirts until when one meets a girl and a dude walking under an umbrella, it is hard to distinguish the dude in his wide pants from the girl in her tight skirt. Wonder why it is women take such delight in getting themselves up in male attire? It must be because they glory in doing the things that they should not. Sure they don't imagine themselves any more attractive to the sex on whose rights they encroach. To quote Secretary Blaine's words: "I think a woman is nearest perfection when she is most womanly." Speaking of opinions of women by different eminent men, Margaret Manton says: "If a woman wants to get a good opinion of herself, let her go and interview Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, the great-hearted man of whom it may be truly said: 'He loves his fellow-men.' It takes a hundred men to make an encampment," says Mr. Ingersoll, "but one woman can make a home." "I not only admire woman as the most beautiful object ever made, but I reverence her as the redeeming glory of humanity, the sanctuary of all the virtues, the pledge of all perfect qualities of the head and heart." "It is not just or right to lay the sins of men at the feet of women." "It is because women are so much better than men that their faults seem greater." "A man's desire is the foundation of his love, but a woman's desire is born of her love." "The one thing in this world that is constant, the one peak that rises above all clouds, the one window in which the light forever burns, the one star that darkness cannot quench, is woman's love. It rises to the greatest heights, it sinks to the lowest depths, it forgives all injuries. It is perennial of life and grows in every climate. Neither coldness nor neglect, harshness nor cruelty can extinguish it. This is the love that subdues the earth; that gives us music all the way from the cradle song to the grand closing symphony that bears the soul away on wings of fire. A love that is greater than power, sweeter than life and stronger than death." That certainly is a tribute to the pity that women do not do more to deserve it.

Yesterday a pretty girl boarded a Fourth Avenue car with a pet dog under her arm. The little lady was beautifully dressed in a golden tan tailor suit with copper trimmings, a dainty little bonnet nestled like a jewel on her curls, while long suede gloves finished her costume. The only thing that marred was the dog. It was a miserable looking little creature, not much larger than your fist and was burdened with a wonderful collar covered with bells; every time the car took a fresh start and the electricity began to buzz, doggie would indulge in a piping bark, which set all the bells on his collar to jingling and a nervous looking old maid in the corner seemed ready to jump from the swiftly moving car in preference to riding the length of the line with that dog. When I left the car she was still glaring first at the dog then at its owner, as if unable to decide which to toss out the window. I felt positively sympathetic with that old maid, for if there is one thing above another that I do abhor, it is one of those small pet dogs, and what any well balanced woman wants to carry one for, especially into public places, is one of the inexplicables. There must be a screw missing somewhere in the woman who does.

Every one says we are to have the capital here, and what everyone says must be true. Dear me, won't old Louisville feel her importance then. A lovelier spot could not be selected for it than Central park. With the capitol building erected on the slight elevation there and the grounds brilliantly illuminated with electric lights, it would rival a scene from the Arabian Knights. What a famous lover's bower it would be. As it is many a happy wife dates her happiness back to the time when it was used for the exposition grounds and can vividly recall the starry night when she sat by some one's side in a shadowy retreat, listening to the far away music of the band, the soft splash of the fountains and to something sweeter, softer, dearer than all. It looks just a little mean to take poor Frankfort's all from her; such a picturesque little place as it is, too, but that is the way of the world, you know. To those who have, much is given and vice versa. It certainly would be a great thing for Louisville, though, and if Frankfort is to be robbed of her treasure, let's have it in spite of all Lexington. 'Twill be worth a trip to Louisville then.

Dame fashion informs us that powdered hair is to be worn again. Are you surprised? I am not. It is a custom worthy the dark ages, I know, but the world must have change and I suppose those who furnish the changes sometimes run out. The perplexing question is, how are the women with abundant suits of dark hair to produce the desired snow-white effect and what are the boys to do when their best girl tucks her head down on his shoulder? It will keep him busy cleaning the powder off. Then, how is the powder to be gotten out at bed-time? Surely no nice girl would sleep with her hair in such a condition.

The only solution of the mystery that I can reach is, that a great quantity of false hair will be used. When will humanity learn to let nature alone? Don't you hate anything false? And there is so much of it in the world; not only personal looks, but false friendships, false conversation and false lives. But to return to the white hair. To accompany this heathenish style little patches of court plaster or "beauty marks" are to adorn the face and woe to the woman with "crows feet" and needle wrinkles. A camera will not compare with this means of bringing "woman's enemy" into bold relief. But to the woman under 30, she can array herself in all the powder and patches she likes and when the toilet is completed will look like a bisque doll.

The babies (bless their little hearts) are quite the rage now, and happy is the mother who is the proud possessor of twins. It is enough to make any heart ache to pass through some parts of the city and see the many neglected little creatures with grimy faces, dirty tangled hair and poor little ragged bodies. Such cases are found in country villages as well as in the large cities, only the little ones in the country have the benefit of pure air and sunshine, which those in a city miss. If every woman would take half the money laid aside for the Easter bonnet and spend it for shoes and clothing for these miserable little ones, the Easter sermon would not seem one-half so long and the bonnet would be replaced by a crown on the last and glorious Easter morning. Beware of the woman who says she does not love little children and don't make that woman your life partner. If all selfish people in the world would just try the experiment of doing something for others, they would be surprised at the pleasure it would afford them. There is nothing which brings happiness like the knowledge of doing one's duty and especially if the duty consists of something for others.

MAYME.

A SPECIAL to the Louisville Times from Owensboro, contains the following information, of a young newspaper man, who is the possessor of a deal more gall than brains. "W. S. Stettler has got into trouble. He was arrested early Wednesday morning at Owensboro for carrying concealed a deadly weapon. He was kept in jail till 8 o'clock, when his case came up in the city court and postponed until Saturday. When he got out he proceeded to get even with the policeman who arrested him. He was in a saloon when arrested and saw the officers drinking beer, and reported them to the chief, who suspended them."

"Madam," said the judge, sternly, "you must answer the question. What is your age?"

"I was born the same year your honor was. That would make me about—" "It isn't necessary to go into particulars," interposed the judge sternly. "Gentlemen, have you any further use for the witness? You may stand aside, madam."

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—FOR SALE.—80 ewes and lambs. W. W. Hay, Bryantsville.

—C. A. Redd has for sale 18 long yearling mules and 5 long 2-year-olds. Im.

—John Smith sold to Robinson, of Garrard, a lot of yearling heifers at $12.

—William Lackey sold to Walter

Warren a pair of 2-year-old mules for $150.

—Winter Brewer has purchased over

4,000 lambs at 6 and 5 cents a pound.—

—Harrordsburg Sayings.

—Mr. Scott Farris took 6 of S. H. Baughman's fleet youngsters to Louisville Saturday to prepare them for the spring races.

—At Lawson Bros.' sale horses sold at from $75 to $100 per head; corn $3.01 per barrel in crib; 50 sheep at $4.75 per head, and 8 at $10 per head; hogs $2.80 per 100; hemp seed $2.10 per bushel; other property sold well.—Central Record.

—Wm. Arnold bought of R. C. Boggs

a 7-month-old jack for $500 and of Squire

Hugueny a 11-month-old one for $600.

R. C. Boggs has sold his fine 2-year-old jack, Bourbon Chief, Jr., to Mr. James

W. Brockman, of Australia, Mo., for $1,000.—Richmond Register.

—Hart Wallace, the promising Longfellow colt, owned by L. M. Lasley, of this place, and Thomas Wallace, of Missouri, will be sold at public auction in Louisville on the 24th, to close a partnership business. It is thought that at least $10,000 will be paid for him.

—H. N. Ware, of Washington, sold to a Marion party 100 hogs at 4½ and 65

lambs for June delivery at 5½. Mr.

Ware tells us that corn can be had at $2 per barrel in the crib in his county and that there is an abundance of it. He also says that the wheat crop is looking splendidly.

—The recent engagements of Mr. A.

C. Robinson, Beazley Bros., and others in this and adjoining counties, of export cattle for July delivery at 4½ and 5 cents, show a somewhat improved feeling.

There is an impression among good judges that 6 cents will yet be reached on this class of stock for mid-summer delivery.—Central Record.

—Dave Prewitt bought of J. W. Har-dan 150 lambs, paying 6 cents for the ones to be delivered May 23, and 5 cents for those delivered the 22d of June.

There will probably be 200 trotters this year. In the last few days L. H. Hudson has bought of various parties in this and neighboring counties, six business horses at prices ranging from $150 to $300.—Advocate.

—Notwithstanding the inclement weather a large crowd attended the sale of Mrs. Maggie W. Carpenter on Friday last. Good prices were realized throughout and particularly did the farming implements and the like sell well. Twelve yearling mules sold at $92; hogs at $2.55 to $3.08; milk cows $30 to $35; mares $125

to $175; jack colt $275, jennet $250; bay

$12.05 to $14 per stock. The farm was rented privately to T. L. Carpenter and Janes Rose for about $700.

KIRKSVILLE, MADISON COUNTY.

—There is very little sickness in this vicinity now. Dr. Frisbie is unable to leave his room.

—Preparations are being made to open a first-class barber-shop next to the drug store on Main street.

—Miss Ruth Jones is teaching a school at Cottonburg. Miss Ida Prewitt is teaching near Kirksville.

—Prof. B. F. Evans is teaching a select school at Brown Hill. The profesor is an excellent teacher.

—The farmers of this vicinity are behind with their work on account of so much rain and cold weather.

—The young people enjoyed a hop given by Mr. C. S. Roop on the Richmond pike last Friday night. The music was furnished by the Kirksville band.

—Dr. D. L. Fry, late of your town, has cast his lot with us. The doctor is a young man of excellent morals and is making a good impression with those he meets and by the way is getting his share of the practice.

—The splendid school, Elliott Institute, for the education of males and females, adds no little to the attractiveness of Kirksville.

—Mr. E. C. Rhinehart, of Pineville, is the guest of her father, Mr. J. S. Fish.

Mr. Curtis Gover is out again and able to look after his business.

Sunday-school Teacher—What is absolutely necessary to enable a man to get along well in this wicked world?

Johnny—A rattling good pair 'o legs

NEWSY NOTES.

Syracuse suffered a $1,300,000 fire Saturday.

The mortality of New Orleans is the greatest in the South and West.

The depot at Somersett was broken into last week and several trunks were stolen.

A. Minor Griswold, editor of the Texas Siftings, died suddenly at Sheboygan Falls, Wis.

The Pacelot Cotton Mills at Pacelot, S. C., were destroyed by an incendiary fire. Loss $90,000.

At Omaha, the Bohn Sash and Door Factory was destroyed. Loss $150,000; insurance $130,000.

The unhappy wife of Rev. John Jones committed suicide by hanging herself at Columbus, O.

Wm. Becket was given 21 years at the Knox circuit court for killing Town Marshal T. Hubbard.

P. T. Barnum will erect a $125,000 building as a gift to the scientific and historical societies of Bridgeport, Ct.

Jake Kilrain knocked out George Godfrey, the colored Boston pugilist, at San Francisco, but it took 44 rounds to do it.

Destitute miners at Redville, O., broke open a box car and took flour and meat to save their families from starvation.

The Rhode Island democratic convention has renominated the old State ticket, throughout, headed by John W. Davis for governor.

The president of the Board of Lady Managers of the World's Fair is to receive $5,000 and the secretary $3,000.

During the English blizzard over 70 lives were lost by shipwreck on the Devonshire coast, while a number of persons are reported as frozen to death in the interior.

Snow in the Colorado mountains covers railroad tracks from 5 to 40 feet. Towns and villages are cut off from communication, and provisions must be carried in on snowshoes.

Of the 2,800 presidential post-offices only 290 are kept by democrats. Pretty good work in two years and no doubt the little man in the White House is being congratulated for it.

At Virginia, Nev., Bella Preusch, a 15-year-old girl was suspended from school for 20 days for misbehavior. She went home and shot and fatally wounded herself. She said she was innocent.

Money is about as scarce in France as it is in this country. The great Parisian bank would have collapsed last week had it not been for timely aid of the Bank of France and other financial houses.

The Mining Journal published at Middlesboro has been sold to P. H. Cram, O. O. Hall, H. B. Haywood and G. W. Arthur. They will convert it into a daily and will be known as the Daily Herald.

The three experts who examined the books of the Louisville Water Works Co., have brought in a bill of $6,000 each for their labors. The books were found all right, but it cost a good deal for the city to be made aware of that fact.

D. H. Lechone, of Columbus, secured the pardon of Williamette King, who was serving a term in the Ohio Penitentiary for killing her child, of which Lechone was the father, and did the square thing by marrying her.

Philip H. Riley, Cincinnati drummer, was badly beaten by John Wakely and Ernest Lambert, at Lexington. Wakely claimed that Riley had written his wife a note containing indecent proposals. Riley is well-known here.

The verdict of the coroner's jury at Memphis is that Attorney David H. Poston came to his death from a pistol shot wound inflicted by Col. H. Clay King, "wilfully, premeditated and apparently without justifiable cause."

Lambert Goldsmith shot and mortally wounded Robert T. Skillman at Columbus, O. Both were traveling men from Louisville and the real trouble is believed to have arisen over a game of cards they had played a day or so previous.

Harvey Smith, a young Georgia planter, was attacked by a negro employee, who fired at him with a shot gun. Although the wound was fatal Smith shot and killed the negro and also brother of the negro's, who attempted to take his part.

J. F. Heaburg, a veteran telegrapher, and the only one who stood to his key at Grenada, Miss., during the yellow fever epidemic of 1878, committed suicide at Fulton, Ky., by jumping in front of a locomotive. His home was at Jackson, Tenn.

Charles and Frank Wigginton, charged with the poisoning of B. C. Watts and William Ferguson, at Mt. Sterling, were held without bail. The father and younger brother, who were at first else charged with the crime, were released.

Seligman, foreman of the jury that failed to convict the Mafia assassins, was expelled from the New Orleans Stock Exchange and Young Men's Gymnasium. His brother also dismissed him from his employ and Seligman, badly frightened, has left New Orleans.

Nearly 1,100 trotters have been entered for the Kentucky Futurity.

Col. Robles, commander of the Chilian government forces, was killed in a battle with the insurgents March 9.

The recent battle in Chilli resulted in serious loss to the government, fully of the forces being killed and wounded.

The United States steamship Galena is fast ashore and lying in a bad position at Gayhead, on the Massachusetts coast.

The pork-house of H. F. Vissman & Co., of Louisville, burned Sunday. The loss was about $30,000, but is fully covered by insurance.

The break in the levee at Buck's Bayou, Coahoma county, Miss., is increasing and is now 300 feet wide. It is thought that it can be repaired when the necessary materials arrive.

Buffalo Bill wants to take a number of the troublesome Indians imprisoned at Fort Sheridan to Europe with his Wild West show. This would be about the best way to get rid of them.

In various sections of the country yesterday the Italians held indignant meetings, denounced the mobbing of their countrymen and demanded that Italy take notice of the affair of Saturday.

The first application for the refunding of money under the Direct Tax law, recently passed by Congress, was made by Gov. Hill, of New York. The amount called for is $2,225,000, to be held in trust for those entitled to it.

Midway's postmaster, John Woolums, left his business in the charge of his daughter a week or more ago and left under the pretense of a business trip to Lexington. He has not been heard of since and his bondsmen are a bit out of humor on account of it.

Sig. Rudini, Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs, has cabled the Italian press of New York from Rome that he has already demanded from the Federal government energetic and prompt reparation for the lynching of the Mafia as assassins in New Orleans.

The insane asylum near Nashville burned Saturday and 9 of the 500 occupants perished in the flames. About 40 of the inmates escaped, but most of them have been caught. The fire is supposed to have been started by an inmate, who made a successful escape. Loss $50,000; fully covered by insurance.

The failure of the jury to convict the assassins of Chief of Police Hennessey at New Orleans resulted in the violent deaths of 11 Italians at the hands of an indignant mob, which shot the accused men in the jail yard or in their cells. In response to a call issued by leading citizens, a crowd of several thousand people assembled about Clay's statue, and, led by Mr. W. S. Parkerson and Mr. John C. Wickliffe, forced the jail. The appeals of the assassins were met with a fusillade of bullets from Winchester. To satisfy the immense throng on the outside, the dying bodies of two of the Mafia were taken to the street and hanged to lamp posts. The mob was orderly and after executing its vengeance dispersed quietly. The action of the lynchers was indorsed by the New Orleans Board of Trade and other mercantile bodies.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

The constitutional convention completed the legislative report by adopting the apportionment section. Senatorial representation was fixed at 38 senators instead of 30 as previously agreed on.

From interviews published a majority of the constitutional convention delegates seem to favor allowing the people to vote on the location of the capital. About 20 say they are still undecided.

The constitutional convention has reversed its former action and re-established the present system of commonwealth attorneys. The salary of each is to be $500 yearly from the State Treasury and whatever else the county may choose to pay.

LONDON LAUREL COUNTY.

Only four prisoners in jail now.

Work on the streets has stopped. Lack of funds is said to the cause.

Carl Eads and Evan Profit had a little fight at the depot Sunday evening. Nobody killed.

The report came here Friday that Clint Riley, colored, of Pittsburg, had stabbed his wife to death. The report has been contradicted.

J. K. Faulkner shipped from White's Station to V. Boreing an eagle measuring over seven feet from tip to tip of wings, to be mounted by Taxidermist Melcon.

The Dramatic Club made such a success here that they have concluded to go to Barbourville for a few nights and if they succeed they will probably take a trip over the State. They took in over $100 here.

Sheriff Catron, of Knox county, was here last week summoning 70 jurors for one of that county's numerous murder cases. Four of the parties summoned left here Sunday on foot, the distance being only 24 miles.

There are some of our citizens against Dick Warren because he was for putting us in a republican congressional district. Tell him to come up and I think after he has talked to our people they will change their opinion.

Mr. Fred Weidmer, Swiss, fell from the roof of the Swiss Presbyterian church Thursday and was dangerously hurt. He fell a distance of 19 feet striking on his back and was hurt internally.

His son, John, was run over by a loaded wagon the same day and hurt very badly.

Hon. Edward Parker has instructions for senator from the counties of Knox, Laurel, Jackson and Owsley; J. Paul, Pulaski; Dr. Frank Watkins, Whitley, and J. H. Davis, Bell. Parker only needs eight votes of being elected on first ballot, and has more counties instructed for him than all others combined. It is firmly believed that Lauren's candidate will get there, even if the Cincinnati Posts's correspondent does say different.

DEATHS' DOINGS.

Mr. Frank Fehr, president of the Frank Fehr Brewing Company, died in Louisville Sunday.

Mr. B. L. Johnson, who was associated with the editor of this paper during the construction of the C. S. Railroad in Pulaski, died last week of pneumonia. At the time of his death he was living at Big Stone Gap.

A dispatch from Frankfort says that Mr. Sigmund Luscher, a wealthy and prominent brewer, dropped dead of apoplexy on the 12th. He was at one time a councilman and was very popular. Mr. Luscher married the Widow Miller, of this place and much sympathy is felt for her.

Mr. G. H. Perkin died Friday of abscess of the lungs after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Perkin moved to this county from Pennsylvania several years ago and has been a farmer since. His remains were laid to rest in Buffalo cemetery Saturday morning. He carried an insurance of $2,000.

Mr. William C. Bailey died at his home at Turnersville Sunday afternoon, after a 10 days' illness of pneumonia, in his 63d year. Mr. Bailey was a good and honorable gentleman, a splendid citizen and a valued member of the Christian church of Turnersville, of which he was an elder. He was one of the original as well as one of the persistent prohibitionists of this county, and was ever found ready to lend a helping hand to that or any other good cause.

He leaves a wife, who in her hour of great bereavement has the sympathy of her many friends. Elder W. L. Williams preached a most appropriate funeral sermon yesterday afternoon and immediately thereafter the remains were laid to rest in the Hustonville Cemetery.

The passenger department of the Q. & C. Route will publish an edition of 50,000 of a pamphlet describing all Timber Lands, Coal and Mineral Lands, Improved and Unimproved FARMS that are for sale on or near the line of the road. The entire expense of this publication will be borne by the R. R. Co., and we ask FARMERS and LAND OWNERS having property for sale to send accurate description of same, giving location, character of soil, nature of improvements, if any, price and terms, to the undersigned at earliest possible moment, in order not to delay publication of the work. Supplements will be issued from time to time, but we want the first number as complete as possible. Answer by mail to F. S. Mordant, Commissioner of Immigration, care D. G. Edwards, G. P. & T. A. FEMININE FANCIES.

HEBREW women, on the average, are said to live longer than those of any other race.

THINGS that proclaim their cost, like diamonds, stiff silks, velvets and passementerie, are not conducive to genteel dress.

A MAGIC preparation for keeping frizzles "in" is found in mixing equal parts of glycerine and rose water, and anointing the hair freely with it before curling; or an equally good mixture is made of perfumed olive oil with beeswax dissolved therein.

NOT only for its flavor, but for health's sake, a dish of apple sauce goes with roast pork; in addition may be served one or several of the following vegetables: Potatoes, white and sweet, cauliflower, Brussels sprouts or spinach, tomatoes, turnips, vegetables, oysters, boiled rice or horning.

A NEW kind of rouge is to be had which is waterproof. A girl who has always been accused of painting complained of being faint the other night at dinner, but did not change color.

"Excuse me," she said, "it is nothing," and dipped her napkin in her tumbler and wet her face. Grand defeat of enemies. The napkin remained white.

MISS LUCIE LYNN, of Christian College, Hustonville, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Lynn.

JOSEPH ADAMS, of the depot, is visiting his parents at Paint Lick and Mr. C. S. Blanford, of Rileys, is handling the keys during his absence.

MISS FANNIE SHANKS, of Stanford, spent Sunday at Daughters' College with her classmates, Misses Annie Z. Grimes and Annie Smith.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

DR. J. F. PEYTON went to Louisville yesterday to close the contract of the Stanford Water Co., to deliver water to the L. & N. at Rowland. Capt. Frank Harris accompanied him.

MR. P. L. TOWNS, of the Bell Co. Abstract & Title Guaranty Co., was here last week assisting Mr. J. Carver Jones, of the same company in securing certain abstracts for Bell and other counties that were once a portion of this county.

LOVERS of music and their many friends will be glad to learn that Misses Libbie Pegan and Nodis Andrews, of Millersburg Female College, will visit Mrs. S. S. Myers about the first of April. During their stay they will sing in the Methodist church choir and a rare treat is promised.

THE L. & N. ticket office at Junction City, was robbed of about $30 Friday. No arrests have been made.

THE directors of the Danville & Crab Orchard turnpike met Saturday and declared a dividend of 75 cents on the share.

SOMERSET is running on standard time and consequently is about 20 minutes behind her booming neighboring town of Stanford.

THE Knights of Pythias of Somerset have moved into their elegant new hall known as Masonic Temple and the lodge is progressing even beyond the expectations of the most sanguine.

THE Central Record has begun to lament the fact that Lancaster citizens invested their surplus in Middlesboro dirt rather than in home enterprises. It is an extremely plain case of grieving over split milk, but we trust Brother Marr's article will not be entirely futile, but will do the coming generation some good if they have any surplus to invest.

REV. W. Y. SAFFORD and wife had a narrow escape from death while coming from Danville to this city. They were crossing the track of the Cincinnati Southern railroad near Danville, when a passenger train came unexpectedly around the bend. The vehicle was so close to the passing train that the suction lifted its top.—Harrodsburg Sayings. Their many friends here are glad of their good fortune in escaping so close a call.

THE docket of the spring term of the circuit court, which begins Monday next contains the following: Equity appearances 28; ordinary appearances 27; old ordinary 48; old equity 144; commonwealth 97. It gives us pleasure to state that there is not a murder case to be tried; the first time for years.

THE Hustonville correspondent of the Danville Advocate seems to think that in the event the C. S. Machine Shops are moved from Somerset, Moreland stands a show for them. Of course the entire county would be delighted to see such an enterprise located there, but if the Harrodsburg club fared as badly financially as did the teams of Lincoln and many other counties in the Bluegrass League of several years ago, that paper will find too much opposition at home to mention the business again.

A REPORTER of this paper spent a portion of Sunday afternoon in jail talking to the notorious criminals confined therein. Although a majority of the prisoners are charged with murder and several sentenced to life imprisonment they are all as happy apparently as those of us who breathe the air of freedom and liberty. Sidney Lewis, who killed his father, Judge Lewis, of Harlan, and who is here for safe keeping, is a free and entertaining talker and he spoke of the killing as carelessly as if he had not been the perpetrator of the fearful deed which no doubt his life will pay the penalty of. He says that he is not fearful of punishment and can easily prove that the act was done in self-defense. He is desirous of an early trial and wants to be tried in Harlan, where he says he can and will get justice if Judge Boyd can be sworn off the bench. Lewis is just 21, but is a widower with one child. He was married at 16 and says that his married life was as happy as any man's. In speaking of the trouble with his father Lewis stated that it dated back a number of years, but did not care to tell the real cause of it, however, claiming that his father had always been unkind to him. In the same cell is James Howard, a cousin of Wils Howard, and a man very much after the order of his illustrious (?) cousin. Howard got a life sentence at the last term of the Bell county court for the killing of Miss Dibby Bingham, a sister-in-law of his. He of course claims the killing accidental and is now waiting for a new hearing. In speaking of his recent trial he paid his respects to Judge Boyd and Commonwealth Attorney Clark by saying that if he is ever freed he will kill them both. He is also a little angry with Attorney O. V. Riley, who prosecuted him, and casually remarked that he might take a crack at him if the opportunity presents itself. Wils Jennings was engaged in writing to his lady love when the reporter spoke to him. He was in the best of humor and after a pleasing talk and a farewell he insisted that the I. J. man call again, adding that he always had a weakness for the profession and liked newspaper men. Gooden, who got a life sentence for killing Town Marshal Coover, at Pineville, is ill with fever and consequently had little to say. Beth Fusen, some 60 years of age, and who killed John Lawson in Laurel, has been given a new trial and is this time hopeful of coming clear rather than receive a 21-year sentence as he did before. He is a lively old fellow and furnishes his cellmates with an abundance of funny stories and a great amount of alleged wit. The other prisoners while away their time playing cards, shooting craps and the like and are seemingly as well contented as it only takes 100, their coming seems a certainty.

R. C. WARREN returned on Saturday night from a trip to Southern Kentucky in the interest of his canvas for State auditor and left again this morning to be absent a week or ten days. He is making a stirring and energetic canvass, and is meeting the strongest encouragement wherever he goes. In fact he takes wonderfully with the people and will go to the convention in May with a solid, enthusiastic, inalienable following and of such strength as will astonish even his most hopeful friends. This is due not only to Mr. Warren's pleasing address and cordial manner and acknowledged fitness for the place, but is largely and even chiefly due to the fact that the party and the people want and mean to have a change of officials at Frankfort and more especially in this office. They are tired of being on the defensive as to its past management. They are tired of a self-perpetuating ring of office-holders. They are tired of seeing the entire auditory force of clerks and agents neglecting their duties and laboriously electioneering for the retention of their chief. This following, which seems to be well nigh universal throughout the State, will find a voice in every county mass meeting, and will result, we feel assured, in the nomination of Mr. Warren, who is a new man and an honest and able one. It will be less his victory than the people's.

ALL kinds of field and garden seeds at J. B. Foster's.

WOOLDRIDGE JELlico COAL at 13 cents on car and 14 cents delivered. B. K. & W. H. Wearen.

THEY will last only a few days. Those sample shoes for men, ladies and children. Joe S. Jones, Cash Bargain Store.

It has been just six weeks since the ground-hog came out and saw his shadow and it is to be hoped that we will have better weather now.

THE following silly remark is credited to a Harrodsburg young lady: "Girls must be fast to be popular in society." Poor girl, her experience in society has been a sad one indeed. Woman's modesty is her most beautiful attribute and has stronger magnetic powers by far than any osculatory accomplishments she may be the possessor of.

THE Harrodsburg Democrat wants a baseball league organized, to include the clubs of the various counties in this section. This may be a good idea, but if the Harrodsburg club fared as badly financially as did the teams of Lincoln and many other counties in the Bluegrass League of several years ago, that paper will find too much opposition at home to mention the business again.

SEEING so many references to persons on the "sick list" in our various exchanges, curiosity prompts us to ask who is the keeper of such a record; whether the holder of said office is appointed or elected by the people and whether or not it is a remunerative one. A little light on the subject would be very acceptable and we hope those contemporaries that are so given to the use of the expression will not hesitate to give us the desired information.

DISTILLER'S BAD LUCK.—Mr. W. H. Dillinger, the Dix River distiller, has had the misfortune to lose a considerable amount of his "bug juice" during the last week. His yeast proved no account and he was compelled to throw away about 250 gallons of what he at first considered "pure stuff." Henry Hester has also had bad luck and has lost some 20 kegs of beer that he had prepared to make whisky of. The storekeeper's failure to arrive at his distillery on time caused the loss.

THAT enterprising firm, The Louisville Store, winds up its second year of successful business to-day. By honest and fair dealing to all and a liberal use of printers' ink in their home paper it is not strange they have made money from the start. In answer to our advertising man's inquiry, as to whether their "ad" should be continued, Manager Gabriel said: "Of course continue it, and we will no doubt have to enlarge it in a short while. Our money spent in advertising pays us better than any investment we make."

AN effort is being made by the various churches here to secure a return date of the Woody Bros., who during their engagement a week or so ago gave such general satisfaction. A number of old stagers, who thought they could not turn a tune, were induced to try to serve the Lord to that extent and as a consequence some valuable additions in the various congregations were found. It will only cost $100 for 12 lessons and a meeting will be held at the Christian church to-night to take steps towards securing members. Everybody is invited. Sixty-four names have already been secured and as it only takes 100, their coming seems a certainty.

QUEER TRAITS OF ANIMALS.

A dog in Chester, Pa., will never walk when there is a chance to jump on a street car and ride.

The rabbit cannot climb the outside of a tree, but he can climb up the inside of a hollow tree, provided the hollow is not too great in diameter. The thing is done by "humping" his back, and with his back against one side and his feet on the other side he works his way up.

At Columbus, O., the other night a lady caught a rat making off with her gold watch and chain, which she had left upon a dresser on retiring. The rodent had dragged his prize nearly twenty feet, and in a minute more would have disappeared in his hole with it.

LEWIS MOUNTAIN, a lad of eleven years, at Monson, Me., has a dog team with which he recently drove from his home to that of his grandfather in Milo, a distance of thirty miles, in seven hours. The trip was made just after a snowstorm, when the roads were in very bad condition.

A horse that chews tobacco is owned by George Olmstead, of Shelton, Conn. The animal learned to chew years ago, in Danbury, when a man named Franklin Pierce was his driver. Whenever Pierce took a chew in the presence of the horse, he gave the animal some, and it has since become a habit with the latter, and evidently gives it great satisfaction.

GOOD WOMEN FOR LAZY MEN.

By actual count 150 young women have taken up timber claims in western Washington during the past six months.

THERE are now 200 regularly ordained women preachers in the United States, where forty years ago there was only one.

ONE woman in Monroe, Me., has made in ten months time 1,876 vests, receiving therefor $210, beside doing the housework for herself and husband, and taking care of the milk of one cow.

GERTRUDE LINDEN is the poetic name of a young woman who makes a good living for herself and two children sweeping and dusting the private apartments of housekeepers and bachelors.

In Austria women are employed to carry the mortar and brick to the builders. They work from seven o'clock in the morning till six o'clock at night with one hour at noon, and receive twenty cents a day. Most of these female hod-carriers are unmarried and homeless.

MRS. E. A. FLAGG, of West Hartford, Conn., shows a business tact that is surpassed by but few men. In addition to managing the grist mill and its large business, she has started an ice enterprise. A house, 62x32 feet and 22 feet high, has been built and filled with 2,000 tons of ice, which she proposes to sell the coming summer.

CURIOS ADS AND SIGNS.

AN Italian prince advertises in a newspaper at Nice for an American heiress.

In some foreign cities there are men hired to attract a crowd to their employers' windows by staring and gazing into them.

A SALOON in Cumberland Gap, East Tennessee, has the following inscription: "Sunny Side saloon. Polytix & other trix discussed at all ours."

A CURIOUS advertisement in an English paper says: "This concert takes place to-night (Friday), and not yesterday, as was erroneously announced."

An enterprising publisher in London advertised for several bald-headed men, painted the name of his paper on each head and tried to get them front seats at a theatrical performance, but the manager of the theater objected.

A RECENT issue of a paper published in Natal, South Africa, contained this advertisement: "Wanted — A young lady as lady's companion, and to assist in teaching three children. Apply to J. P. J. Biggarsburg, N. B.—Three eligible bachelors kept on the premises."

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

TWO SUGAR plantations in Louisiana have produced the past season 4,700,000 and 4,463,000 pounds of sugar respectively.

THE development of smokeless coal mines in Tonquin shows much larger deposits than were at first believed to be possible.

THEY are talking about drilling a well at Butler, Penn., to 10,000 feet deep, with the idea of "piping" off heat for economic purposes."

THE decrease in the shipbuilding of the United Kingdom during 1890 amounts to 29,828 tons in the aggregate, but the production of the Scottish yards has increased 21,000 tons.

VIRGINIA, North Carolina and Tennessee raise an average of 2,970,000 bushels of peanuts a year. The annual value of the crop averaged $2,500,000 for the last four years.

GREAT quantities of buttons are now made from potatoes. The tubers are turned into pulp and hardened with acids, and thereafter the stuff is cut up and treated as in button-making with bone, etc.

ENGLAND'S QUEEN.

QUEEN VICTORIA calls a bouquet by the old-fashioned name of nosegay.

QUEEN VICTORIA has done much to promote photography in England, as she has always been a great collector of photographs.

QUEEN VICTORIA, when dining alone, drinks very weak whisky and water. This is in accordance with her doctor's orders, but at banquets she takes two glasses of Burgundy.

A NEW YORK club recently gave a dinner to all the principal freaks in the dime museums. Living skeletons, fat women, turtle boys, contortionists, magnetic women, Chinese giants, calf-headed boys, three armed and four legged born, dined and danced with their hosts until a very late hour.

ODD BITS HERE AND THERE.

"OLD CONELY RAILROAD" was the superscription on a postal card which recently passed through the Boston post office.

A STONE building at Decatur, Mich., is nicknamed "Mummery block," because all the village secret societies meet there.

B. F. STEARNE, of Lynchburg, Va., has in his possession a curiously carved violin, said to have once been the property of Thomas Jefferson.

SPEAKING of brief names, there is a family in France named B, one in Belgium named O, a river in Holland called the Y and a village in Sweden named A.

On the top of a dead spruce tree at Brookfield, Ore., are growing an elder and salmonberry bush as complacently as if on terra firma, two hundred feet below.

The ninety-foot tower erected at Kearny, N. J., in 1843 has been torn down. A man named Haskell built it, and on a certain day ascended it with his family expecting the Lord to snatch them into Heaven.

A PHILADELPHIA cable-car turning a street curve jolted the "bang" off the forehead of a stylish lady and dung it on the newspaper of a gentleman who was reading of a scalping incident somewhere west.

A CLUB composed of married men has been started in Hannibal, Mo. The ostensible object is to induce married men to spend their evenings at home. They meet very frequently, almost every evening, at a drug store and pass hours talking about the pleasures which married men miss by spending much of their leisure outside of their own households.
